Informational

NEWSLETTER. If anyone has a better layout idea I welcome it.

For January we paid the higher price for non-machinable newsletters. Rules changed on the tabbing, but it also requires that the fold be the top edge of the address panel. This is the only way I could figure out how to do that and maintain the two sided single sheet format that people say they prefer.

CARGO $. FMSC had already approved a 40' container of food packets for pickup in MN on 2/5; at the conference they approved a second which will be picked up 2/20. If you have any budget flexibility this is a wonderful gift of food for the people of Haiti.

CLINIC $. We get virtually nothing donated now for the clinic and more people know about us so the patient count and treatment count go up monthly... this is a vital way to save lives and get people back to school or work to improve their lives.

May God give you...

For every storm, a rainbow,
For every tear, a smile,
For every care, a promise
And a blessing in each trial.
For every problem life sends,
A faithful friend to share,
For every sigh, a sweet song,
And an answer for each prayer.

EYE-OPENER

Things you don't think about. We were asked to join The Street Ministry on Saturday evening, January 26. Roseline and Presume had just gotten to Palm Harbor and I got this very strong feeling that I was to take them to this event. We stopped at the grocery, bought Cuban sandwiches and a couple of bags of apples to contribute.

Presume seemed to experience a combination of shock and of sadness to realize that there are hungry homeless people in America. One of my more touching moments was watching Presume's emotions as he, a Haitian, delivered a plate of warm food to a homeless, hungry white man who was so hungry he was too light headed to go for his own food.

BUSY YEAR SO FAR...

My sister, Linda Gardner, made her annual January trip from Indiana to help close out 2012 Contributions and get the yearend statements in the mail by January 15. After meeting that deadline, we immediately put out newsletters to those on the mailing list who didn't make a contribution in 2012. Next we opened 2013 and caught up all the thank you notes... then it was time for her to return to the cold.

Roseline and Presume took in the Feed My Starving Children conference. I had been before and though it is a wonderful and spiritual event, it was more important for Roseline to meet them this year, for them to see who actually clears and distributes their food contributions to Haiti. In 2012 we received and distributed 4 40' containers of the food packets... blessings of food to thousands.

While in Palm Harbor Roseline reviewed inventory notes and ordered supplies for the clinic, made buying trips to SAM's, etc. With the supplies ordered the inventory should be in good shape. Carnival is in Cap Haitien this year so we needed to be ready for the partying injuries. After they left I finalized the pallet and shipped the 300+# of supplies to Ft. Pierce. Many of the other orders will be shipped to Ft. Pierce by the suppliers and taken directly by Missionary Flights International..

Roseline just e-mailed (2/8/2013) "Cap is very busy. I haven't seen so many people here. The President just came and is in the middle of a group of singers singing with them on the streets." Carnival begins.

In Florida, part of the yearend duties are completed and whittling down on more. Met the deadline for getting the application to Pilgrim Lutheran Church for Pilgrim House #22. Keep that in your prayers if you would, please.

With the help of Don S., Corinne and Leslie we have three more pallets of uniforms and great new clothing all on pallets ready to go to Haiti. Once again we can combine these with the 1254 boxes of food packets donated by FMSC and have over 43,000# of food and clothing for the needy of Haiti. This particular project included opening donation boxes, sorting out the trash, re-boxing and moving from the storage to the Florida headquarters for palletizing, manifesting and getting on its way to Haiti.

Have contributors coming from England to visit here in Florida, and then they will be going on to Haiti to spend 10 days helping out at the headquarters and "anything we need" they said. After that they want to look around Haiti for a while before they head back to the U.K. Please keep the Beazley's in your prayers for safe travels and an endearing experience.

There are 100 400gm jars of SSD (burn) cream on its way to Ft. Pierce to fly to Haiti along with the items that Roseline gathered while here and some lovely dresses made by local church ladies for the girls at the orphanage.

The photo below gives you a Roseline view of the last container we packed this way—this is as the doors were opened by customs. This is a 40' container.

What do we need now? Money, isn't that always my answer? But we will have bills coming in for two containers of food rather close together, the SSD cream, shipping of Roseline's pallet ready before they left, and bills for gauze, tape and other supplies...

We so very much appreciate all that you do to support this Lord's work... couldn't do any of it without you!

Wishing you a Happy and Blessed St. Patrick's Day...

Eva and All.
